Alma Mater

*To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay,
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.*

*A prayer for her who sheltered us,
A hope no child her name will stain,
A cheer thrice given with a hearty voice
And now a sweet refrain.*

*Of loyalty are symbols twain,
Her colors, crimson and the gray,
"Dear Indiana Mother Fair,"
The burden of our lay.*

*Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail; her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.*

— Hamlin Cogswell

If I have learned nothing, I have experienced the passage of time. Both the instant and the eon have been my domain as I have passed the days, weeks, and years of my time here.

It has only been an instant in the face of history, and yes, it seems only yesterday that I came to this place which seemed so vast.

But now I call it home.

Often I felt that there was too little time to learn even what was required of me. There was so much to experience; so many people to meet.

Those I did come in contact with taught me a lot. Not the least of my lessons was that learning is not a phenomenon of the classrooms; I learned outside as well as within.

Though the pressures of time were great, I made it through. I learned to cope.

In contrast to the pressure, I discovered an inner reserve of patience I had not realized I possessed. It lead to discipline.

I had to work when I would have preferred to relax. But I still found time for friends, for fun — for the small things that mean the most.

Yes, I have experienced time. It has guided me in the course of my enrollment at IUP.

Time has helped me grow like a tree with many branches of interest. It has also given me roots, and made me strong — like an oak.

Dorm living. Hardly an experience that's easy to put into words. Most of us have lived there and we've all come to know its weaknesses and its strengths. When we lived in Esch, Lawrence, Whitmyre, or Wahr, we could find plenty of reasons to move out. Excuses such as: "we're not really on our own," and "no drinking in the dorms," were just a few of the more popular ones. Now looking back on it — wasn't it kind of fun to sneak that half-keg into your room past the hall counselor on duty? Well, at least it was fun until you started the party and found out that it was the first time in years that the counselor decided to spend a quiet evening at home in his room. Then, of course, there's the meal plan which every dorm-dweller is required to get. A or B — both of them guarantee an exquisite opportunity to experience the culinary delights of either Foster or Folger cafeteria. But often, the cafe is the only place in town a person can go to eat six desserts at one sitting.

Seriously, living in a residence hall can be one of the most rewarding of all college experiences. You can always find a friend to talk with, study with, laugh with and even cry with if necessary. And besides, where else could you find one or two other people crazy enough to go out and throw snowballs at three in the morning — whether it's snowing or not?

Off-Campus Dorms

Leininger, MacGregor, Algonquin, Hope, Wyoming, and Leroy. If you are looking for an off-campus dorm, Indiana has several from which to choose. Whether it is Oakland, Rooney, or one of the above, each offers the convenience of dorm living without University regulations. Each dorm, owned by an individual or corporation, sets its own rules and employs its own counselors. They cater to people who cannot get University housing, or who want to live in a different location. Some, like Leininger, have dining facilities for the residents, while others are set up just like the on-campus dorms. Many have private rooms for those who prefer them. But no matter how they operate, off-campus dorms offer IUP's students convenient, reasonably-priced housing.

Apartments

Ninety-eight, ninety-nine, one hundred, or so it seems by the time you get to the top of the steps with the groceries. Our off-campus apartments somehow always seem to be at the top of a million steps or six miles from the campus. Even so, apartment life means that you're finally on your own. There are no hall counselors to evaluate, but you have to cook for yourself and there's no longer anyone to clean the bathroom for you.

There is something satisfying about finding and moving into that first apartment — even though you have to move a mountain of junk into a two-room abode you share with seven other people. Yet the joy of living your own lifestyle, beholden only to your landlord, makes it more than worth every minor inconvenience.

Houses

First, find ten people (preferably of the same sex) who think they might be able to live together. Next, start looking at least six months in advance; put ads in the papers, ask Clark Hall, bother your friends who already live off campus. Finally — when you find something that has not been condemned and is not a winter resort for small, furry vermin — slip the landlord a few extra dollars just to be sure he'll hold it for you. But, never fear, once you have that off-campus house with a lovely view of somebody's rusty Buick right outside your front door, the fun has just begun.

Undoubtedly, the best thing about living in an off-campus house in the CLOSE relationships you develop with your roomies. Whether it's fighting for the bathroom on the night of a big date, typing to your roommate's Pink Floyd album, or studying anatomy together (no matter whose it is), moving out of the dorms to try communal living is a great experience — if one of you can cook!

Greeks

Swallowing goldfish, flagpole sitting, and marching single-file backwards. That's what your parents thought when you told them you were 'going Greek.' Since then, you've learned being Greek means more than three times to a match and singing ridiculous songs. Sure there's lots of fun involved like Sigma Chi Derby Days, Phi Psi 500, parties, and formals.

Greek life is a feeling not to be described by a member of a sorority or fraternity, or felt by one who isn't. If you're fortunate enough to be a Greek, you know just how important alpha, beta, gamma, and the rest of those letters are. You wear them and cherish them forever.

Commuters

From battling blinding snowstorms to the agony of a flat tire five minutes before an 8 o'clock, IUP's commuter experiences it all. On a campus where housing is sometimes impossible to find, the next best option is often a Chevy with reclining bucket seats.

The commuter's car is his best friend. It's a place to keep books, clothes, used coffee cups, and those favorite, Charlie Daniels Band tapes. It's also a great place to catch a little shut-eye between lectures — provided, that is, you don't lose the car in a pot hole on your way to the parking lot!

Couples

College provides lots of things, including the chance to fall in love. At IUP, just about the time the squirrels get back from Florida — or wherever they spend their winters — one begins to see people walking arm in arm across the Oak Grove. Some couples may be seen blowing a hurried kiss as they run for class, while others catch a glimpse of that special someone during a lecture on physics.

But, whether it's the guy you were just lavaliered to or the girl you've just married, many people at IUP share something special with that special someone. It's that caring that makes it spring all year round.

Branch Campuses

Kittanning and Punxsutawney. Whenever we think of IUP, we too often neglect our two branch campuses. But each, located 30 miles in opposite directions of the main campus, is important in its own way.

Not only do these campuses give Indiana the prestige of being the only state-owned university to have branches, but they also help to make us the largest state-owned educational institution.

The Big K and Punxy were home for many of us during our first year or two at college. It was there that we met our best friend and met the prof who helped us survive the trauma of being a freshman.

One can safely say that a branch campus is the place for those of us who prefer a family atmosphere.

Homecoming

Tradition is the driving force behind any Homecoming . . . traditional parade, traditional football game, traditional parties.

But IUP's 1979 Homecoming shattered the time-honored mores of the celebration.

Returning alumni viewed a parade honoring a male "queen," Tim Carroll, as the various factions cheered or jeered him along the route.

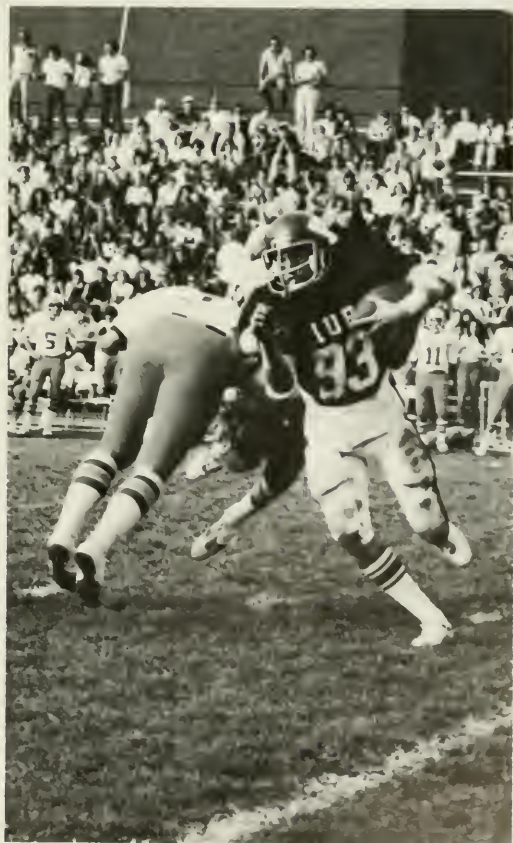

Although Tim Leventry was IUP's first male homecoming royalty in the early '70's, Carroll was the first male to ride the queen's float.

Patti Mehall and Cydney Shields were Carroll's court. Later at the football game, IUP defeated rival Slippery Rock.

Marching Band

The twirl of flags, the spin of guns, rhythmic formations and the driving force of the drums.

IUP's Big Marching Band entertained football fans at halftime in new uniforms this year. Under the direction of Dr. Charles Casavant, the Big Indian silks, rifles, majorettes, and instrumentalists fielded the largest band in IUP history.

B-Day Rally

The student activism of the '60's witnessed a rebirth at IUP on October 24, 1979 with Boycott Day, a protest aimed at rising tuition among the state-owned colleges.

Students at Pennsylvania State Colleges and IUP skipped classes in favor of attending "B-Day" workshops on tuition reform in the New Student Lounge of the Student Union.

Late in the afternoon, an overflow crowd gathered in Fisher Auditorium for a protest rally led by SGA and CAS.

Dear harrisburg,
please stop giving us the royal bite.

Sam Jack Rally

IUP students chanted and marched through the Oak Grove, staged a sit-in during the Board of Trustees' meeting, and held a rally in Flagstone Theatre to protest the appointment of local businessman Sam W. Jack to the IUP Board of Trustees. Jack angered students after stating that he favored tuition increases and that students should pay their way through college by holding car washes and bake sales.

Christmas Bazaar

Candles, art prints, wood carvings, and poodle sweaters were among the wares peddled in the Student Union during the four-day annual Christmas Bazaar. The bazaar is designed to give students a chance to display their handiwork and is an economical place to pick up last-minute purchases.

Activities Fair

Various IUP organizations set up exhibit booths and displayed their pet projects at the annual Activities Fair. Demonstrations, free samples and performing groups were among the festivities.

Australia's Little River Band rocked with a sellout crowd in the Field House October 6, 1979. While taping segments for a live album, the band played such hits as "Reminiscing," "Lady," and "Lonesome Loser."

Little River Band

IUP students were treated to an evening of lively, yet mellow music October 21, 1979, when America performed at the Field House.

Michael Woods, Gerry Beckley and Dewey Bunnell played hits from their ten-year career, including "I Need You," "Daisy Jane," "Tin Man," and "Horse With No Name."

The Dirt Band

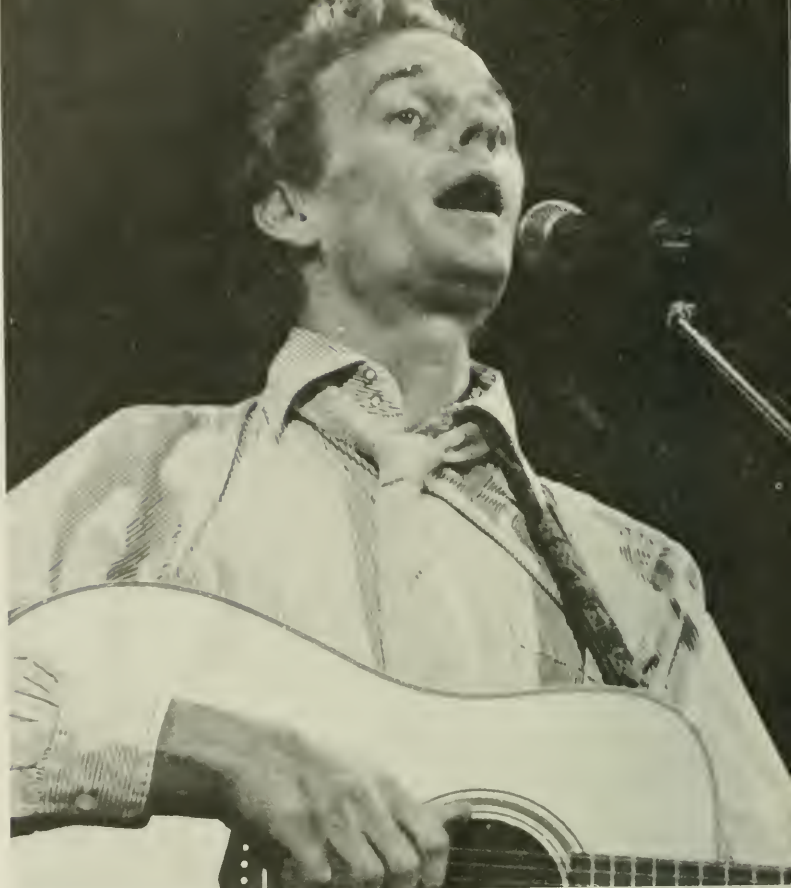

On Sunday, April 27, The Dirt Band played to an almost-capacity crowd in Memorial Field House. The seven-man troupe performed exceptional vocal and instrumental selections that kept the audience on its feet for the duration of the concert. They presented such songs as "In for the Night," "Mr. Bojangles," and "1814." A highlight of the show was the crowd-pleaser "American Dream" from their newest album of the same name. After such a worthwhile concert, IUP looks forward to hosting The Dirt Band again in the future.

Livingston Taylor

Down-home country boy Livingston Taylor returned to IUP as a solo performer on September 22, 1979 after opening various concerts previously.

Taylor, brother of vocalist James Taylor, held his own with just a guitar while he sang "Over the Rainbow" and his hit "I Will Be in Love With You."

Harry Chapin

Harry "Keep the Change" Chapin played before a sellout crowd in Fisher Auditorium March 4, 1980. During his benefit concert for World Hunger, Chapin performed his hits "Taxi," "Cat's in the Cradle," and "Circle" while imploring those in the audience to end starvation around the world.

Josh White

Folk, rock, and Gospel singer Josh White, Jr. performed Tuesday, October 23 in Fisher Auditorium. A folk performer since the age of four, White said colleges are his favorite place to play because the audiences are more intimate and responsive.

With his partner John Basset, White had the audience participate in a number of tunes which included country and blues selections. No matter what style, though, Josh was not lying when he announced, "I am good." He was.

Peaches and Herb

"Reunited," "Shake Your Groove Thing," and "Roller Skatin' Mate" were just a few hits Peaches and Herb performed for the packed crowd April 20 in the Field House. The over-riding theme of their show was love, and both the audience and the performers seemed to love what they were doing. Backed up by the nine-member band Too Hot, and a lot of crowd enthusiasm, Peaches and Herb ended their superb performance to the tune of a ten minute ovation that brought them back for more great music.

Coffeehouses

Where can you go on campus for free fun and entertainment of exceptional quality, whether it's jazz, rock and roll, or good old footstomping bluegrass? An evening in attendance at one of IUP's many coffeehouses will guarantee an evening of enjoyment.

They're held in the New Lounge of the Student Union usually on Friday and Saturday nights, and they're sponsored by the Activities Board. So, no matter what your tastes, or whether you prefer the music of Barry Drake and Jan McLaughlin, or Michael Spiro, there's always something for you at the coffeehouses to enjoy.

Erica Jong

"We live in an age of tremendous opportunity for women as writers. We have freedom to defy convention."

Defying convention is something Erica Jong does well. The author of Fear of Flying and books of poetry such as Half-Lives and LoveRoot spoke in Fisher Auditorium on Thursday, November 5.

She talked about writing, feminism, and combining the two. Ms. Jong also read selections of her work to the attending audience.

The Warrens

America's top ghost-hunters, Ed and Lorraine Warren spoke in Fisher Auditorium on Wednesday, October 24. They produced evidence to show the "Amityville Horror" actually happened and claimed the film version of the Lutz's story was based on fact and was not exaggerated.

Bobby Seale

Bobby Seale, co-founder of the Black Panther Party, spoke on bringing the needs of the people to the government on Tuesday, February 5 in Fisher Auditorium. Seale, a well-known political activist during the sixties, stated that the turbulent sixties decade represents "the high tide of social change" while he suggested "the eighties represent the time to realize that the domestic problems have not been solved." As a director of Advocates Seen, a lobbying and community organizing group, Seale pledged to do everything possible to see that they will be seen.

David Frye

David Frye, nationally-known comedian and political satirist, performed at Fisher Auditorium on Monday, April 21st.

Frye, who began mimicking movie personalities while he was in high school, is best known for his political impersonations. In 1973, he put out an album entitled, "I Am The President."

Life wasn't always easy for Frye. After college and a stint in the Army he was employed by his father's office cleaning company. However, despite doing a good job, they fired him for answering the phone with a Humphrey Bogart accent.

Kreskin

On Tuesday, February 12, the Amazing Kreskin astounded a Fisher Auditorium audience with his psychic powers.

Through his suggestions, both verbal and non-verbal, Kreskin turned out a corps of spacemen, produced an atmosphere so hot that several participants began to strip, read the minds of audience members with startling accuracy, and even submitted his paycheck for a trick that was proof of his psychic capabilities. Kreskin, led offstage by three audience members, directed others to hide his paycheck. Upon his return, it took him only minutes to recover the check from its hiding place under a policeman's cap.

Kreskin also offered a monetary reward to any skeptic who could prove he used any devices in his performance. But the entertainer's fantastic act made us all believers.

Tim Settimi

Mime Tim Settimi presented a classic show to a Fisher Auditorium crowd on Wednesday, March 5. Settimi executed all of his imaginative presentations with a flair and precision that not only showed his expertise, but his love for his work. Without a sound, Settimi had the audience 'see' a hometown parade, a pair of disco dancers, and a man fishing. In his skit, "Justice," Settimi portrayed a thief scaling walls and cracking a safe. The thief is caught but manages to escape, only to hang himself accidentally upon his exit.

Settimi did, however, appeal to the auditory sense when he played his flute and sang a song entitled, "I'm A-goin' Fish-in'."

It took no stretch of the imagination to see Tim Settimi as the extraordinary artist he is.

Derby Days

Perhaps nothing embodies the spirit of Greek Week at IUP more than Sigma Chi Derby Days. This year, Alpha Sigma Tau won the first place trophy for gathering the most points. But all sororities joined together in friendly competition to raise money for Camp Orenda. The competition reached its peak at Keith Field during the games as different sororities participated in events like "Dress A Sig," and everyone's favorite, "Musical Ice Buckets."

Heidi Sampson, a Sigma Sigma Sigma sister, reigned as Derby Days Queen. This year's Golden Derby was rescued from the basement of John Sutton Hall.

Derby Days is just one example of the spirit of brotherhood and sisterhood each Greek exhibits during Greek Week. Other events this year included the Phi Psi 500 and the All-Greek Pledge Mixer.

Farm Day

May Madness weekend ended IUP Swingout '80 with a bang on Saturday, May 10 at the University Farm. Farm Day was a sun-filled success full of frisbees, egg-tossing, and a hat contest.

Vans from the Union transported students to the farm all day. Once there, everyone could sit back, catch some rays and enjoy the music provided by the group "Hef-wae."

Weather didn't spoil the fun for anybody. Farm Day VIII turned out to be beautiful and sunny all day long, providing a good time for all who attended.

Anything Goes

Stand on your head. Now, climb the obstacle course. Anything goes, right? In the "Anything Goes" contest, sponsored by Pabst, IUP students put themselves through all sorts of torments and withstand all kinds of challenges. Their reasons? Prizes, laughter, and fun for all.

The Diary of Adam and Eve

The Gospel was rewritten a trifle when the Alpha-Omega Players came to IUP. In the dinner-theater presentation of "The Diary of Adam and Eve" students saw the "other" side of the Garden of Eden.

Pittsburgh Chamber Opera Theatre

The Pittsburgh Chamber Opera Theatre made its debut at IUP in Fisher Auditorium on Friday, April 25. Sponsored by the IUP Music Department, the Opera performed the "Barber of Seville" for the enthusiastic audience. The troupe brought a true sense of professionalism to the crowd and IUP hopes the opera company will participate in the residency program again in the future.

Inaugural Weekend

With all the ceremony of a king's coronation, Dr. John Edward Worthen was inaugurated as the 18th President of Indiana University of Pennsylvania. The inauguration, which started at 2 p.m., May 3 with an academic procession through the Oak Grove, was attended by delegates from various colleges, universities, and learned societies. Representatives from IUP included the deans and faculty members from each school, members of the student body, and alumni. Our Vice-President and Trustees also constituted part of the platform.

The inauguration climaxed a weekend which included a symposium by Dr. Joseph Sisco on "America in the Eighties," and also a debate between social critic Reid Buckley and consumer advocate Nicholas Johnson on the topic of "Private Lives and Public Institutions."

President John E. Worthen

Dr. John E. Worthen took the oath of office as IUP's president on October 3, 1979. The former Vice-President of Student Affairs at the University of Delaware set the balancing of the IUP budget as his first priority at the time of his swearing-in, and worked toward that goal throughout the year.

In an attempt to become better acquainted with the campus, Dr. Worthen and his wife, Sandra, invited students, faculty and administrators to dinner at the Sutton Hall apartment where they live with their children, Samantha and Bradley.

Dr. Worthen succeeded Dr. Robert Wilburn, who left IUP for a state government position early in 1979.

Nothing in the university experience is more frustrating than arena registration. It's every person for himself. This is a do or die situation that we are put in. Perhaps it is more of a weeding process than classes are, for it pits the human brain against the computer.

Registration is a computerized combination of a marathon and a scavenger hunt. It's a game of sweat and squirm with the only sure things being Oak Grove 102 and Advanced Partying 306.

Memories of a monotone voice and glaring yellow closed section numbers are what nightmares are made of. After we survive this traumatic experience and look back upon it, we will be sure to laugh and we may even brag a little about the semester we spent nine hours in the arena, or the time we came out with a full course load in another major.

While the experience is still fresh in our minds, we can think of ourselves as gladiators or martyrs — and about how appropriate the name "arena" really is.

Classes

Classes. When it comes right down to it, that's why we're all at IUP. And yet, many of us avoid them whenever possible.

From the much-slandered 8 o'clock to the equally-avoided evening classes, they get us up early, keep us up late, and knock us out. They add structure to our lives as students and form the basis for our daily grind.

Classes are where we meet our chosen field head-on. Our performance can determine the course of our lives.

Sometimes we choose the easy classes, and at other times we opt for the challenge of a tough subject.

In the end, a hard-earned "A" can be one of the most satisfying of our college experiences.

Places to Study

It's 9 p.m. and you've got a final in the morning. Your roommate and the majority of the people living around you are intent on celebrating their last exams.

There's no choice for you but to find somewhere else to cram in those last few morsels of vital information. Somewhere quiet. Somewhere no one ever goes.

The choices are endless and the limitations are few. Only university regulations and your own ingenuity restrict your options.

Libraries, reading rooms and study lounges are the obvious, but not the only choices. Often they close too early or resemble an unopened sardine can.

Hard-core studiers have been known to seek out and use every available nook and cranny — every out of the way place on campus.

Everyone has his or her own favorite studying place — an ideal spot to spend an all-nighter with or without eyes open.

Exams

What's worse than dirty socks, dining hall food, or a hangover? Only one thing — tests. We all know we're here to get an education, but there must be an easier way than to submit ourselves to the torture of taking a test.

You know the feeling. That hopeless sinking in your stomach when you go to all four classes on Monday (for a change) and each prof calmly announces a test to be given on that Friday; the Friday you were going to leave early to go home. But alas, tests count for grades, grades count for your Q.P.A. and, well, your Q.P.A. counts for just about everything. So, since you haven't read those three chapters either, you'd better cancel Thursday night at the bars or maybe just limit it to Wolfendale's and the Coney.

Doesn't it somehow seem worth it all when, as he passes back the tests, the prof says, "The highest grade in the class was a ninety-four." You turn to that last page, and there it is in bright red ink — 94!

Sports

Football

IUP football finished its best season since 1975 under the leadership of first year Coach Owen Dougherty, who guided his team to a 7-3 season record.

Junior quarterback Bob McFarland completed 137 of his 266 pass attempts for 1,987 yards and 14 touchdowns. McFarland had 28 completions in 51 attempts versus Clarion which broke Lynn Heiber's 1975 record.

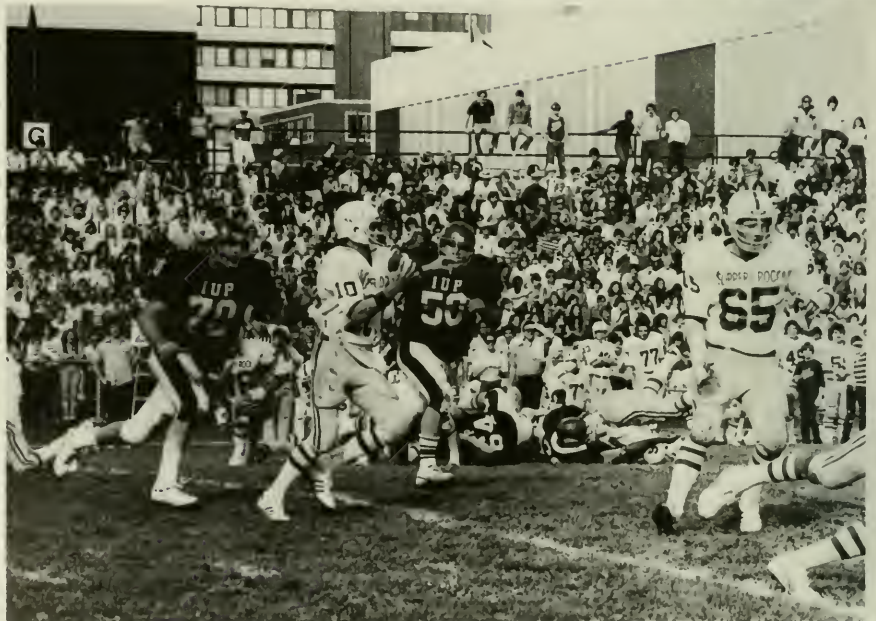

Senior middle linebacker John Link led the defensive team with 88 solo tackles while the rushing game was led by sophomore George Kelly. Kelly, a fullback, ran for 512 yards on 14 carries, and ran for 106 yards against Clarion, IUP's only 100 yard outing of the season.

Split end Terry Skelley finished the season with 59 receptions for 992 yards and 5 touchdowns. His yardage ranked fourth nationally for small colleges, and he was named to the Kodak All-American's first team in NCAA Division II.

Skelley and defensive tackle Joe Cugliari were named to the ECAC Division II team.

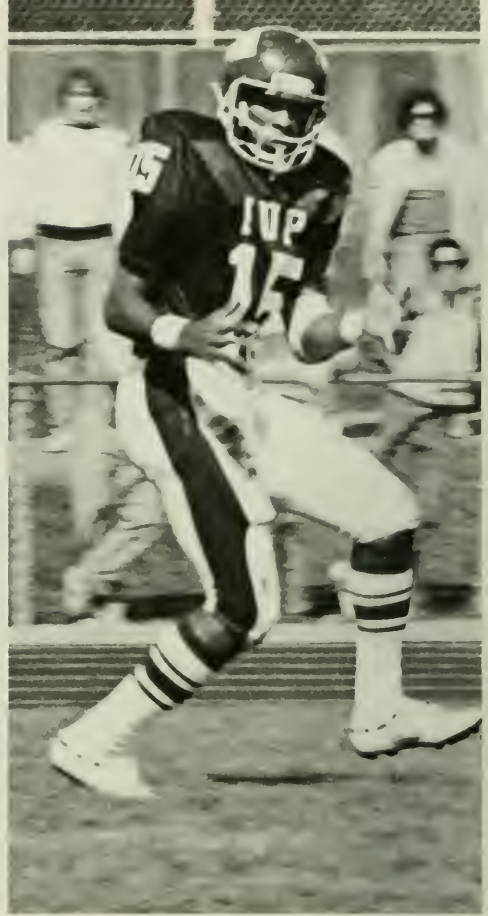

Junior kicker Kurt Bowers broke four records in 1979, and was the team's leading scorer with 52 punts.

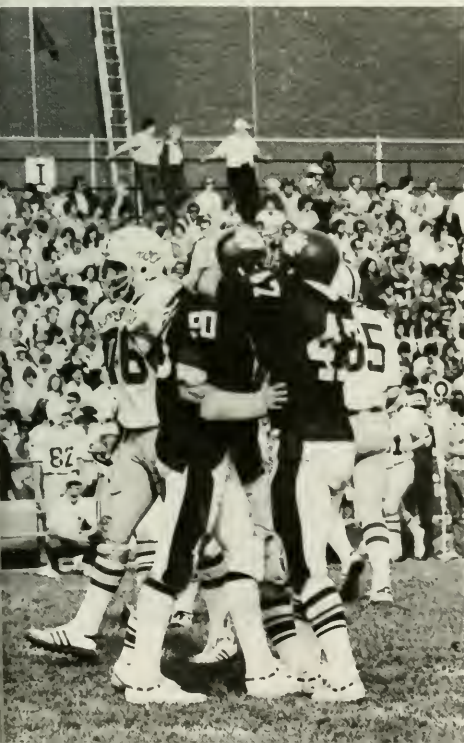

East Stroudsburg, Kutztown, Westminster, Shippensburg, California, Slippery Rock, and Waynesburg fell victim to the IUP machine. IUP suffered losses to Lock Haven, Edinboro, and Clarion.

Cross country coach Lou Sutton led his team through another successful year. The IUP Harriers posted a season record of 41-2 against all competition, invitationals included.

The team captured the NAIA District 18 title, and finished second in the NCAA Division II Northeast Regionals. This enabled them to go to the national championships where they finished a disappointing 18th.

Determined to make up for their previous shortcoming, the team traveled to the NAIA Championship where they finished fifth. Mike Higgins, Ed Phipps, and Lou DiBridge gained All-American status.

Coach Sutton, completing his 12th campaign as cross country mentor, was selected NAIA District 18 Coach of the Year for Cross Country as a result of the vote of coaches in Western Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The 1979 women's cross country team ended their first year of competition as a varsity sport. IUP's Harriers completed the season with a 27-14 record against all competition. Their winning campaign was led by Coach Ed Fry, who is also an assistant for the men's cross country team.

The women finished third in the IUP and California Invitationals, and second to Slippery Rock in the PSAC meet.

Soccer

Vince Celtnicks' soccer team finished the season with an 8-6 record, and battled their way to the NAIA District Championships. There, they defeated Mercyhurst 5-0 becoming District 18 champions for the first time ever.

Celtnick's squad came away with a sixth place national ranking out of 10 teams at the NAIA Championship Tournament, defeating Alduson-Broadus 2-1 in the sectional game.

Trevor Gladden closed the season with a record 17 goals, including two four-goal performances (also a record). Gladden was the first soccer player in IUP history to receive national honors as an All-American.

Tony Chibuoke added 14 goals to the Indian effort, while John Bouman added nine.

Bouman, from Amsterdam, the Netherlands, was the number one draft pick of the Pittsburgh Spirit indoor soccer team. Bouman, however, decided to finish school before trying his hand at pro soccer.

Vince Celtnicks, coach since soccer was established as a varsity sport at IUP in 1969, was selected NAIA District 18 Coach of the Year.

The team, led by second year coach Kofie Montgomery, posted an 8-5-2 record, finished third in the PSAC Tournament, and received a bid to the EIAW Regional Field Hockey Tournament at La Salle University.

The Indians, who were fourth seeded in a group of seven teams, lost to Bucknell in the opening round, 2-1.

Coach Montgomery's team outscored opponents this year 27-16, with most of the 16 goals being scored by formidable opponents such as Lock Haven and Shipensburg.

Who can always be counted on to cheer on the teams? IUP's cheerleaders, that's who. Under fall semester's captain Lisa Barrera, and spring semester's captain Terri Morgan, the squad jumped and yelled for Indiana's football, basketball, and wrestling teams at both the home and away games. The junior varsity squad also cheered at all of the soccer games. The cheerleaders and mascot Kirby Cartwright were always dedicated to boosting school spirit and to perfecting their routines. They began their practice at camp in August and continued working, rain or shine, throughout the year to lead the crowds and bolster team morale at all of IUP's athletic events.

Men's Basketball

The IUP Big Indians ended their '79-'80 basketball season with a tally of 14 wins and nine losses, and fought their way to the NAIA District 18 playoffs where they suffered a disappointing loss to Waynesburg, 80-63.

Head Coach Carl Davis pushed his team to an 11-3 start on the year, and then watched them survive five losses out of six games. The Indians gained momentum and came to the strong season finish that won them a chance in the playoffs.

Four team members contributed double figure averages to the Indian effort. They were sophomores Jeff Brown, Sam Scott and Levi Morton, and junior Mike Mitten. Their averages were 14.8, 13.0, 11.1, and 10.5, respectively.

Mitten was top rebounder with a total of 187 rebounds for an average of eight rebounds per game. Sam Scott was next in line with a total of 164 rebounds for an average of 7.1 rebounds per game, and was named to the Pennsylvania Conference Western Division All-Star Team.

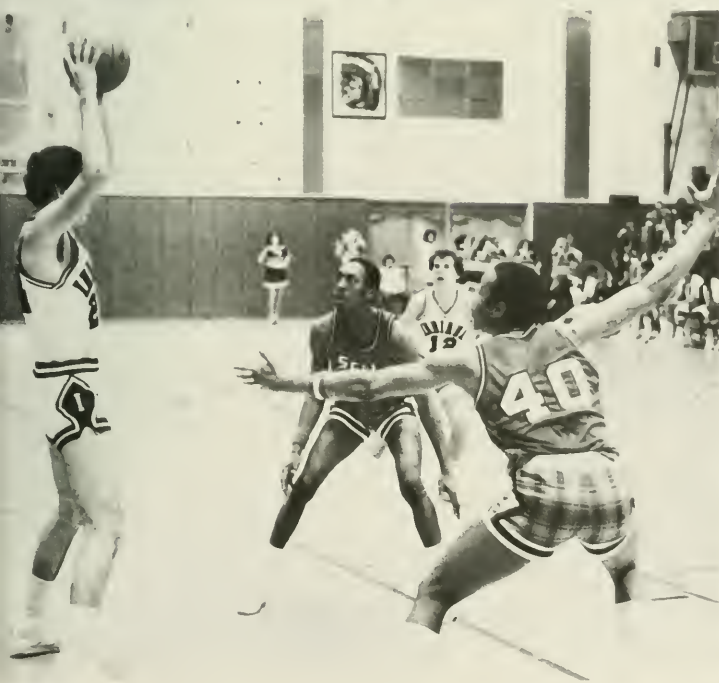

Davis has coached the Big Indians to district playoffs in seven of the ten years that he has been head coach, and has taken them to the NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City twice.

The swimmers who represented IUP in the NCAA Division II Championships were Dan Deacon, Kim Tyson, Bic Murphy, John Capets, Matt Kohler, Mark Woodard, and Jim Gordon.

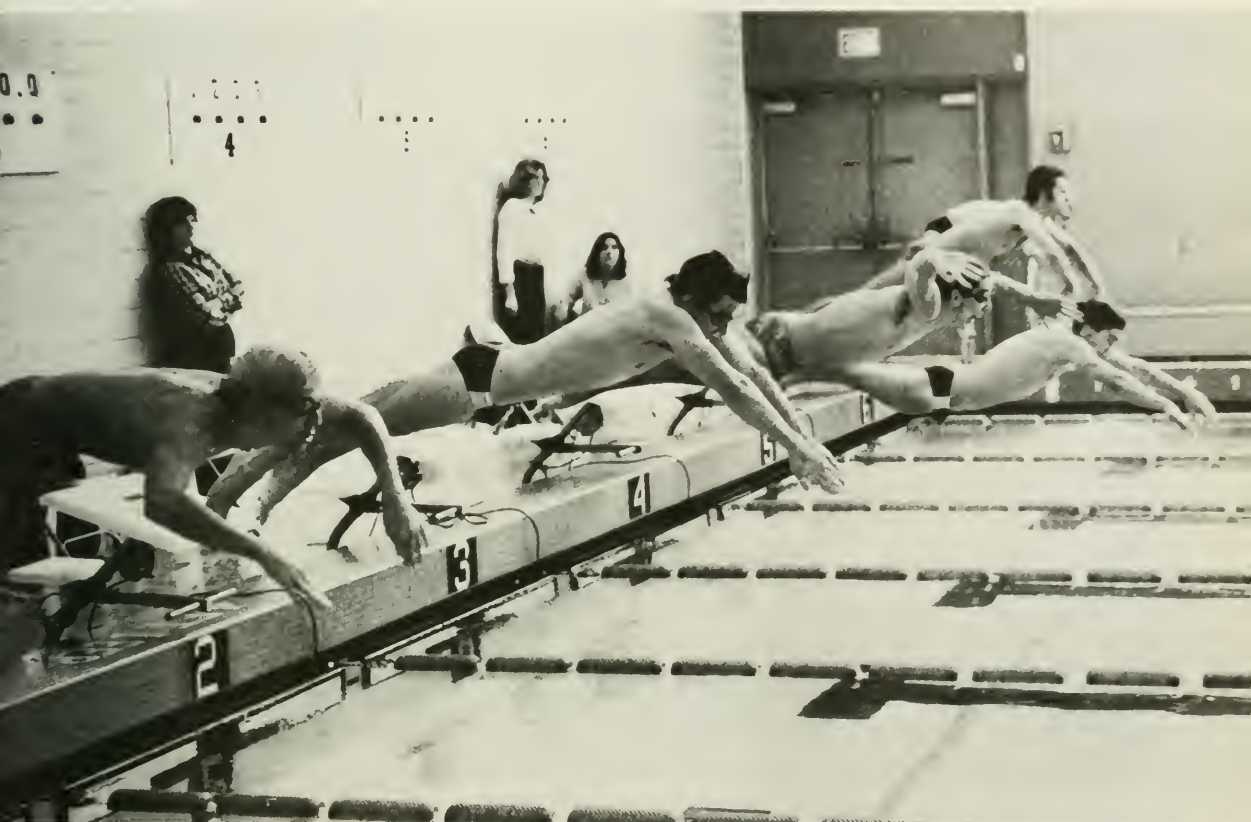

Deacon placed fifth in the nation for the 200-yard backstroke with a time of 1:55.9. He was IUP's first four-year All-American.

Leading the swimmers was senior Donna Kane, who was the first IUP woman to become an All-American swimmer, after she captured a 10th place finish in the 200-yard backstroke. Her time was 2:17.89, which also set an IUP varsity record.

Other records were set this season by freshman Marcy Laderer, who was clocked at :25.87 in the 50-yard freestyle against Allegheny, and :56.9 in the 100-yard freestyle against Bucknell.

Tyrene Fudala, a senior from Uniontown, Laurel Highlands, set the 50-yard breaststroke record in the conference meet with a time of :33.708.

Women's Gymnastics

The women's gymnastic team finished sixth in the AIAW Division III National Gymnastic Championship on March 21-22 in Milledgeville, Georgia, rounding out an impressive season.

Indiana finished the season with a misleading 6-5 record, with the five losses coming at the hands of Division I and II schools. IUP did chalk up wins over Division I Temple and Clarion. The team is unbeaten in Division III competition.

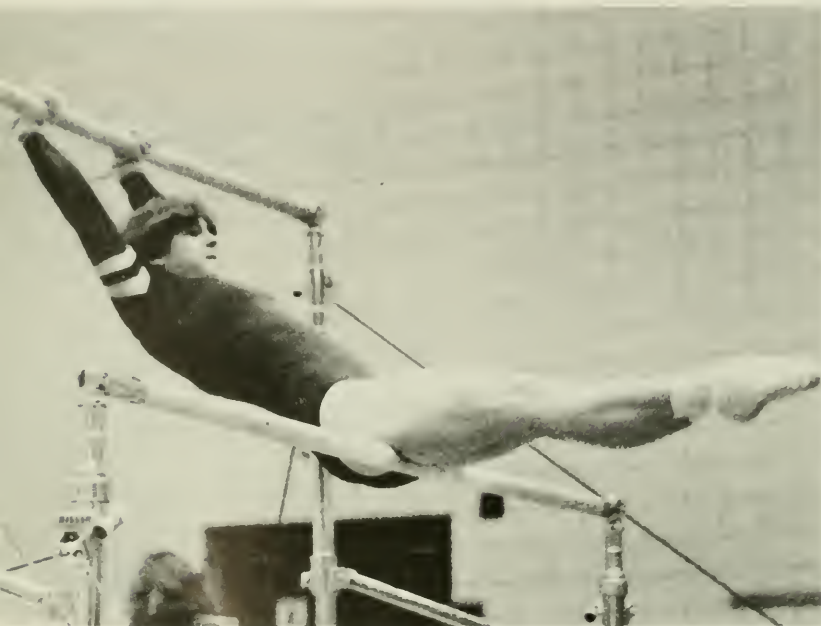

IUP counted on three all-around performers for consistent scoring throughout the season. Roberta Brown and Meg Rogers finished third and fourth as all-around competitors in the Eastern regionals, but the third performer, Leslie Miller, was held back by an ankle injury.

Another strong performer for the Indians throughout the season was freshman balance beam specialist Sandy Lippert. Lippert captured first place in the Eastern Regionals on the beam.

In the floor exercises, Sonya Snyder and Meg Rogers were the most consistent gymnasts. Rogers averaged an impressive 8.16, while Snyder turned in a season average of 7.98 and a season best of 8.55.

Amy Pyle turned in the best showings in the uneven bars for the '79-'80 season, and all-arounders Miller and Rogers were also top individuals in the vault.

The team, going into nationals, was coming off a first place finish at Frostburg, Maryland, in the EAIAW Eastern Regionals.

Senior co-captains Bob Pratt of McKeesport and Bruce Rohrbach of Kutztown led the team to a 9-1 season record. Pratt, who averaged 269 points per match, was the team's best shooter, while Rohrbach pulled in a close second with a 265 average. A maximum of 300 points can be scored per quarter course match.

The team travelled to the University of Pittsburgh on February 22, where they competed in the annual National Rifle Association (NRA) sectionals. Out of the eight teams that participated, IUP's maroon team placed second, while the slate team placed third. Clarion, who handed the team their only loss of the regular season, placed first. Bob Pratt placed third in the individual competition.

1980: The Class That Made The Difference

There is a part of me that wants to write, a part that wants to theorize, a part that wants to sculpt, a part that wants to teach . . . To force myself into a single role, to decide to be just one thing in life, would kill off large parts of me. Rather, I recognize that I live now and only now, and I will do what I want to do this moment and not what I decided was best for my yesterday.

— Hugh Prather

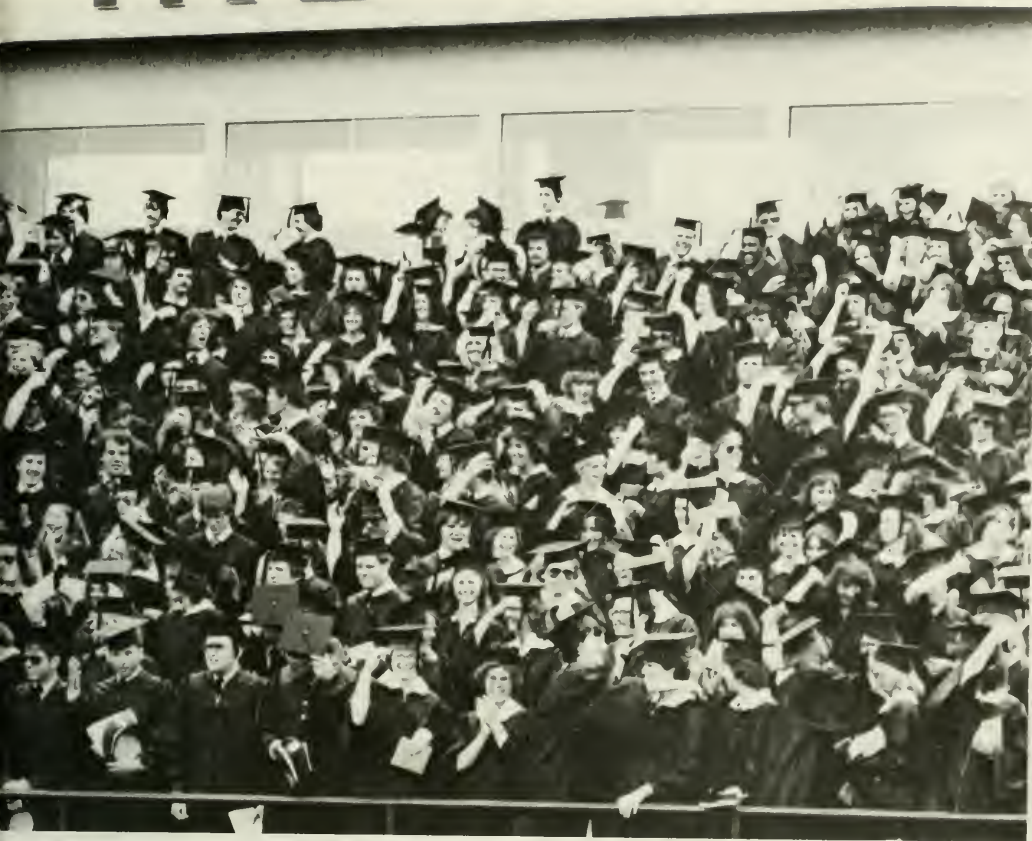

It's here. A lifetime of work has gone into this moment. It's graduation and it can be very frightening. Where will it lead? What will you do? There are dozens of questions to ask yourself. But above all, graduation is a joy. No matter what the past held, and no matter what the future brings, it's time to start life anew.
